

WEEK 3: On a More Cheerful Note . . .

- Using the Right Word, Comma (Addresses), Apostrophe (Possessives), Spelling, Hyphen (Single-Thought Adjectives), Period

When my West Coast ant got sick last month, my mom said I should write to her. At first it was hard to no what to say, but soon the words started too sound like me. I signed my aunts letter "Your niece, Micaela," and than I carefully addressed the envelope: Mrs Juanita Ramirez, c/o Grandview Hospital 230 Pleasant Lane, Oceanview California 90402. I hope she appreciates the self addressed, stamped envelope I enclosed. If she writes, it means she is feeling good.

Corrected Paragraph

When my West Coast <sup>ant</sup> got sick last month, my mom said I should write to her. At first it was hard to <sup>no</sup> what to say, but soon the words started <sup>too</sup> sound like me. I signed my aunts <sup>letter</sup> "Your niece, Micaela," and <sup>than</sup> I carefully addressed the envelope: Mrs Juanita Ramirez, c/o Grandview Hospital, 230 Pleasant Lane, Oceanview, California 90402. I hope she <sup>appreciates</sup> the self-addressed, stamped envelope I enclosed. If she writes, it means she is feeling <sup>well</sup> good.
